

2014-15 Annual Report

A Message from the Board President & Executive Director

The 2014-2015 year saw many challenges and changes. Through the ups and downs the PEI Humane Society staff, volunteers and Board members have shown resilience and dedication to both the people and the pets in our communities across the Island.

In September, 2014 we wished our former Executive Director, Kelly Mullaly, success with PEI 4-H as Executive Administrator. In December Marla Somersall joined the Society as Executive Director, leaving her Executive Director position at Samaritan House in Brandon, Manitoba. With her came her two daughters, Noelle and Sonia, their dog, Yoda and cat, Oliver. Marla's extensive experience, skills and compassionate disposition have been a welcome addition.

In October Beckie MacLean, Shelter Manager, returned from maternity leave and stepped up immediately to keep the Society and Shelter running with the support of Cathy Kenny who graciously stayed on during our transitions in management staff. In March we welcomed our new Fund Development Coordinator, Jennifer Harkness, who joins us after working with the Greater Charlottetown Area Chamber of Commerce. Jennifer has quickly settled into her new role and is actively planning communications and events in addition to furthering donor stewardship initiatives.

In a tragic turn of events, our Marketing Manager, Leanne Cail, passed away as a result of a car accident in Nova Scotia in October. It is still difficult to believe that someone so vibrant and full of life could be gone so suddenly. This has had a significant impact on everyone, and we continue to have her in our thoughts and close to our hearts.

Our dedicated staff team has continued throughout a challenging year to provide the best care possible for the many companion animals in shelter. Their work is supported by committed volunteers who have donated countless hours to help with animal care. They have helped with events to raise much needed funds and to foster animals who need extra attention. Our volunteers are so generous with their time and always willing to do that little bit extra for the animals.

With all of this, our transition to governing by policy took a back seat to the operations of the shelter. Our Board Members stepped in, sharing their time and skills to assist through the changes. Now back on track, we plan to have our new governance model operational in the coming months, under the leadership of our incoming President, Graham Robinson.

The work of the PEI Humane Society would not be possible without the continued support of people from across the island. We are honoured to steward your donations to the best possible use as we work toward our shared vision of a compassionate society where all animals are valued and treated with respect.

Our Vision

Our vision is a compassionate society where animals are valued and treated with respect.

Our Mission

Our mission is to promote quality of life for companion animals through: responsible ownership, successful adoptions, education and enforcement of companion animal welfare legislation in Prince Edward Island.

Our Values

Our core values are to provide programs and services to the community which include:

Humanely housing and caring for companion animals

Protecting companion animals
from abuse and neglect

Educating the community about responsible pet ownership

Providing individuals with the tools
they need to be responsible pet owners

Protecting and promoting public health and safety

The Five Freedoms of Animal Welfare

Freedom from:

- Hunger and Thirst;
- Discomfort;
- Pain, Injury or Disease;
- Fear and Distress; and
- Freedom to Express Normal Behaviour.

Making a difference for Companion Animals

Thanks to proper identification and microchips, most lost or stray dogs are able to be returned to their homes. Unfortunately, far fewer of the many lost or stray cats that arrive at the Shelter are ever claimed by owners. The PEI Humane Society offers low cost micro-chip clinics to help identify pets and get them home.

Capacity for Care changes the landscape

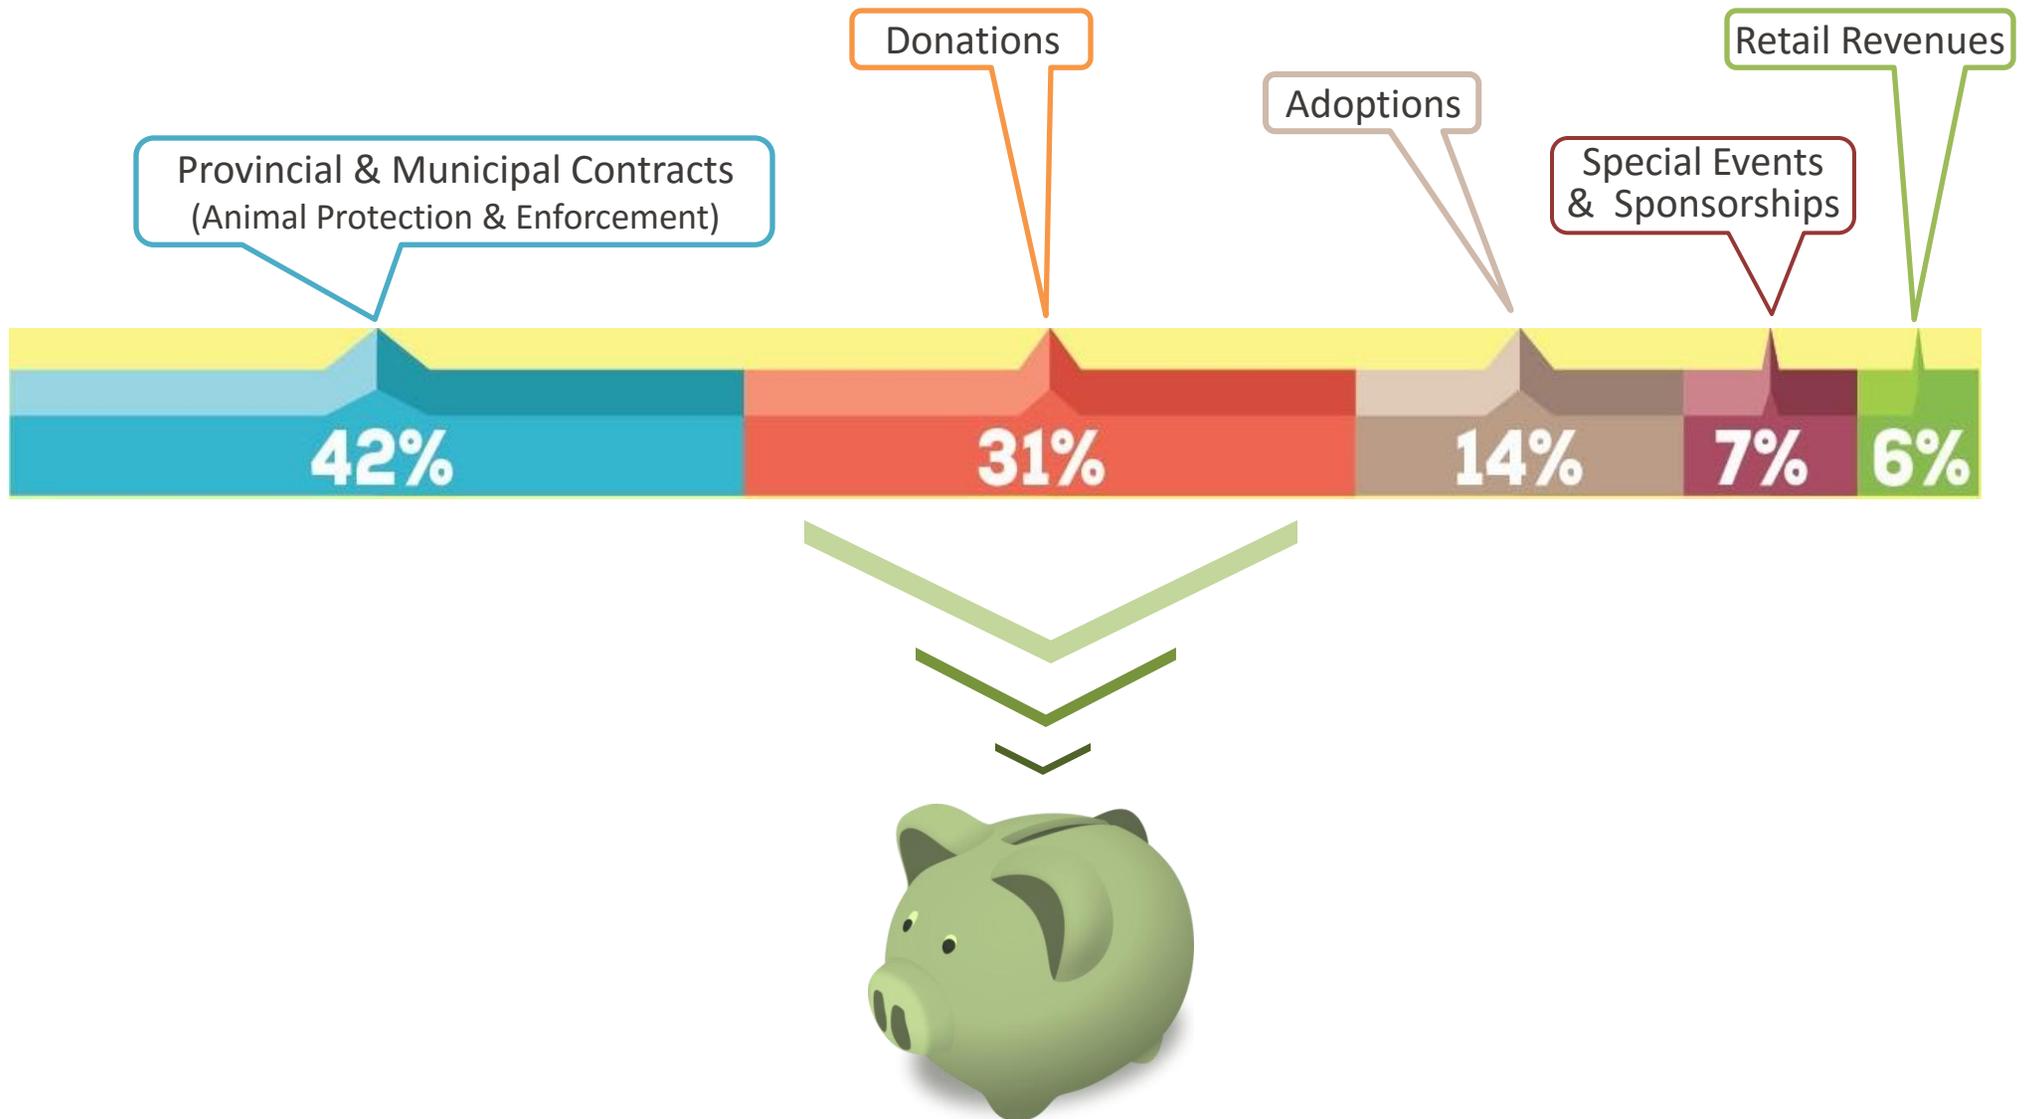

The PEIHS was one of only two shelters in Canada to participate in a pilot program with the Canadian Federation of Humane Societies and the University of California Koret Shelter Medicine Program. Capacity for Care is a model used to better meet the needs of the animals being cared for in shelters, based on the Five Freedoms of Animal Welfare. The program helped the PEIHS shelter implement changes to ensure these freedoms were given to the cats at all times and the results have been amazing.

Cats were adopted more quickly and the staff and volunteers had more time to interact with the cats to meet their social needs. Because cats were adopted more quickly, it created more space in the shelter for other homeless cats.

In the month of April 2015, cats spent, on average, 14 days in the shelter before being adopted. This has decreased from an average stay of 24 days in April 2014. It's simple, housing fewer cats at one time, while meeting all of their needs, saves more lives.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY COME FROM?

Fee-for-service animal protection contracts fund our by-law enforcement and allow us to respond to humane complaints in the community.

Special events create opportunities for community outreach and education. They provide needed funds to ensure that we are able to care for the animals in shelter

Thanks to the generous support of Tuffy's Foods (Nutrisource), all of the Shelter's dry cats and dog food is provided at no charge to the Society which saves a considerable out-of-pocket annual expense of approximately $35,000.

We are grateful for the generous corporate sponsorships and individual donations which continue to support our financial sustainability

Continued funding from the Sir James Dunn Animal Welfare Centre (Atlantic Veterinary College) supports the Humane Dog Training Program and the Emergency Medical Fund for Homeless Animals

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

The animals rely on many supports to reduce the stress of being in shelter

Opt to Adopt

We don't always have history of the animals coming in to our care. To ensure the best possible outcomes, we take the time to assess the health and behaviour of each animal in our care.

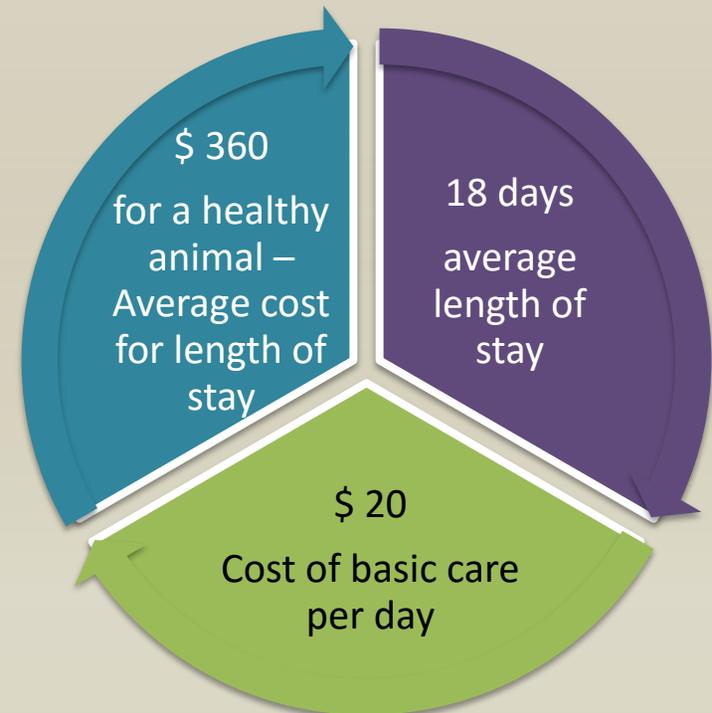

Some animals require immediate treatment for medical emergencies and others require necessary veterinary care. This may involve treatment for issues ranging from minor injuries to diagnostic blood work or x-rays. All cats, dogs and rabbits are spayed or neutered prior to adoption.

Adoption fees help offset some of the costs of daily care in shelter. Fees are kept reasonable as our focus is on finding the most suitable home for the animals. The Fancy Feline and Dandy Dog programs allow us to find homes through reduced fees supplemented by donations to the program.

Providing protection for Companion Animals

Animal protection officers provide coverage 24/7 responding to calls regarding companion animals in distress, strays, and situations where dogs may be a risk to other animals or humans.

The PEI Humane Society provides contracted services in some municipal areas and on behalf of the Province for some companion animal control services.

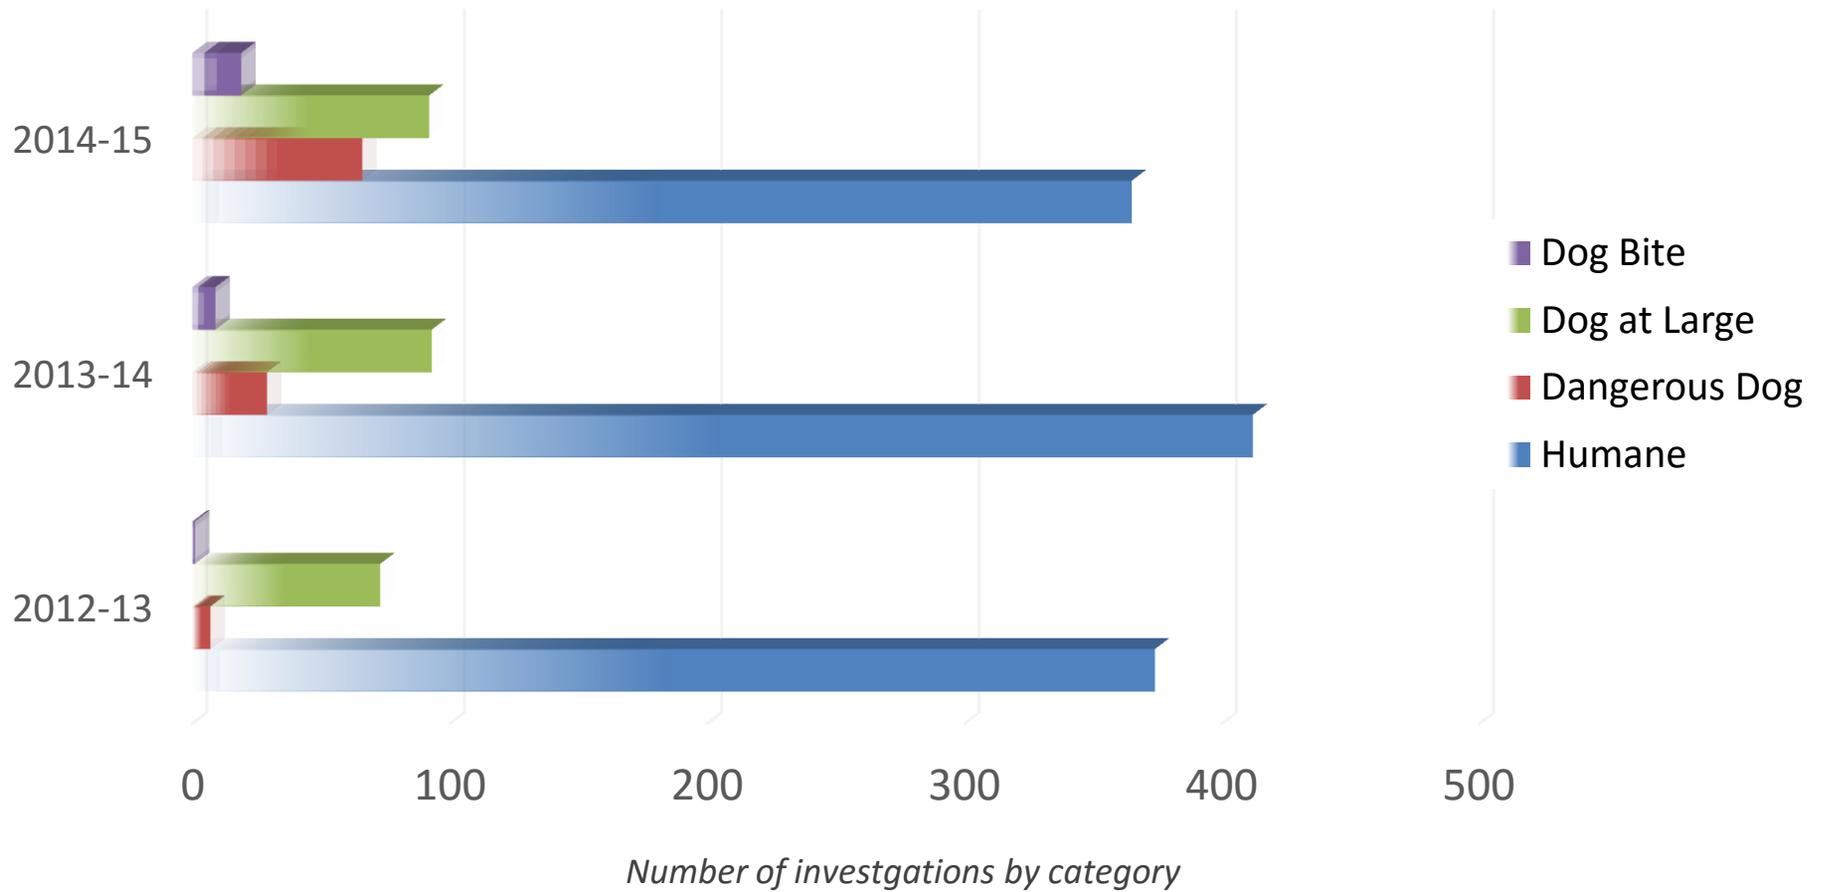

Information on animal control, local bylaws and licensing requirements is available from the Humane Society, and from local municipal and MLA offices.

PEI Humane Society: Treasurer's Report

The financial statements presented in the annual report are presented in a manner consistent with the prior year. The financial statements for the PEI Humane Society (PEIHS) are an essential resource playing a significant role in daily decision making. As a Not-for-Profit entity, PEIHS provides services for companion animals and the general public which is restricted by the resources generated through the year. Continuous preparation of budgets and analysis of financial reports, allow directors to have a constant awareness of the Society's financial state and determine how to invest available resources to drive our mission as a society.

Revenues

In the 2014-2015 fiscal year PEIHS has seen a decrease in revenues from the previous period. With a number of unfortunate events happening during the year the decrease was partially out the control of the shelter. The main reason for the decrease over the year is due to the decrease in special events and miscellaneous. The previous year had additional revenues associated to miscellaneous due to the collection of payments for seized animals to reimburse the shelter for expenses occurred. Donations and memoriams continue to be a major driving force. It shows the communities strong response to the work performed by the shelter. In the upcoming years it will be important for the PEIHS to strengthen the relationship with the community to continue to maintain and grow this revenue stream.

Acting as a public service provider, PEIHS is engaged with ongoing contracts with both provincial and municipal bodies, generating $331,380 during the year. The shelter must continue to build on these relationship to help ensure a strong future. Over the past year the provincial government has been working with the shelter to try and help identify new revenue streams and look at cost cutting areas to help with this.

During the year the PEI Humane Society received bequests in the amount of $38,276. This amount has helped the shelter during a tough financial year come out with a deficit of $7,632. Without these funds the financial impact of the current year would have a much more severe effect on operations on a go forward basis. These funds are typically not budgeted for as they should be treated as a surplus and not a guarantee.

Expenses

In the past fiscal year, PEIHS has generated total expenditures of $780,197, which is very similar to the previous year, and a decrease from the budget of approximately 5.5%. During the year there was a total variance of $46,459 from the budgeted number. This decrease from the budget is related to the decrease in the veterinary supplies and services, maintenance and wages. The decrease in these expenses have helped shelter some of the effects of the decreased revenue discussed above.

PEIHS is still heavily reliant on hours donated by volunteers which are essential to the daily operations of the Shelter. This volunteer assistance allows Shelter staff to focus on reducing costs. Without the countless hours donated by volunteers within the shelter the number and quality of the services offered at the shelter would be greatly affected. While these volunteer hours are not reflected in the financial statements they are invaluable to the organization.

Financial Position

In the current year, the PEIHS had deficient revenues over expenses of $7,632. As discussed above, it was a difficult financial year for the shelter for a number of factors beyond their control. In the 2015-16 fiscal year the PEIHS will need to maintain focus on the budget and stay within its parameters to ensure the ability to continue to service the community. The board will continue to ensure budgets are created on a break even basis or with small surpluses to ensure the long-time viability of the organization. The PEIHS continues to be a strong organization that is committed to meeting its goals in a cost efficient manner, while being proactive in its marketing endeavors to continue to raise awareness.

Respectfully submitted,

Jamie Arsenault, CA

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Directors of Prince Edward Island Humane Society

Report on Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Prince Edward Island Humane Society, which comprise of the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2015, the statement of operations, statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended, statement of cash flows, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatements.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many charitable organizations, the Prince Edward Island Humane Society derives a portion of its revenue in the form of donations and fundraising, the completion of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of revenue from these sources was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Prince Edward Island Humane Society and we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to revenue, excess of expenses over revenue, assets and net assets.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the effect of adjustments, if any, had donations and fundraising been susceptible to complete audit verification, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Prince Edward Island Humane Society as at March 31, 2015, and the results of its operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations.

Prince Edward Island Humane Society

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the Year Ended March 31, 2015, with comparative figures for 2014

The Prince Edward Island Humane Society was incorporated in 1974 under the laws of Prince Edward Island. The society provides shelter for animals and control services for various municipalities on Prince Edward Island and is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act.

1. Significant accounting policies:

a) Basis for preparation:

The financial statements of the organization are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations.

b) Property and equipment:

Property and equipment are stated at cost, and amortized using the declining balance method at the following rates:

Asset	Rate
Buildings	4% and 10%
Paving	8%
Fencing	10%
Equipment	20%
Vehicles	30%
Computer equipment	45%
Website	100%

c) Revenue recognition:

The organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Unrestricted investment income is recognized as revenue when earned.

Restricted contributions for the purchase of property and equipment that will be amortized, should be deferred and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization expense related to the acquired property and equipment.

d) Financial instruments:

The organization's financial assets include cash, accounts receivable and investments. Financial assets are classified as loans and receivables and are measured at amortized cost. Investments are classified as available-for-sale and measured at fair market value.

Prince Edward Island Humane Society

1. Significant accounting policies: (continued)

The organizations financial liabilities include accounts payable, accrued liabilities and long-term debt and are classified as other financial liabilities which are measured at amortized cost.

Unless otherwise noted, it is management's opinion that the organization is not exposed to significant interest, currency, or credit risks arising from these financial instruments. The fair values of these financial instruments approximate their carrying values, unless otherwise noted. Transaction costs for all financial assets and liabilities are recognized as an expense as these costs are incurred. Changes in fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities classified as held for trading, are recognized in income for the year as they occur.

e) Management estimates:

The presentation of financial statements are in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not for Profit Organizations, which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future.

f) Inventory:

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Costs include the costs to purchase, costs to convert, an applicable share of overhead costs, and other costs directly attributable to the inventories. Cost is determined using the first-in, first-out method. Net realizable value represents the amount that may be realized from the sale of an inventory item under normal business conditions. When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories are recognized as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognized. The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realizable value and all losses of inventories shall be recognized as an expense in the period the loss or write-down occurs. The amount of reversal of any write-down's, arising from an increase in net realizable value, shall be recognized as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognized as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

g) Volunteers and donated goods:

Prince Edward Island Humane Society benefited from approximately 27,922 volunteer hours during the year ended March 31, 2015. Due to the difficulty of determining their fair value, volunteer hours are not recognized in wages or in net assets. Donated goods are recorded at their fair market value.

5. Bank indebtedness:

Bank indebtedness includes a demand operating loan in the amount of $ Nil (2014 - $ Nil) which is available to a maximum of $ 40,000 and bears interest at bank's prime plus 0.5%. This loan is due for renewal on January 5, 2016.

The PEI Humane Society does not receive any funding from Government for shelter or veterinarian operations. We continue to look for new ways to provide the best possible care creatively and efficiently with the funds we have available from our donors, supporters and events.

Thank you to the community for your continued support.
